

Itron Opens Call for Abstracts for Itron Utility Week 2018

March 20, 2018

Invites Abstract Submissions for Itron's Premier Customer-focused Event

LIBERTY LAKE, Wash.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Mar. 20, 2018-- Itron, Inc. (NASDAQ: ITRI), a world-leading technology and services company dedicated to the resourceful use of energy and water, is now accepting abstract submissions for Itron Utility Week (IUW) 2018. IUW is Itron's premier customer-focused event for electricity, gas, water and smart city technologies, and this year's event is opening the call for abstracts to a broader audience than previous years.

To expand the breadth of the event, Itron is seeking thought leaders—customers, partners and industry experts—to help educate attendees with compelling stories, experiences and insights from across the utility and smart city space. From resource management successes and lessons learned to showcasing effective smart technology deployments, IUW provides a platform to share these unique stories and amplify the incredible results Itron's customers are achieving around the world.

"Itron Utility Week is customer-focused and customer-led, and our commitment to providing speaker opportunities for our customers is a vital piece of our IUW agenda," said Marina Donovan, vice president of global marketing and public affairs at Itron. "This speaking platform not only gives leaders and innovators the chance to showcase their successes, but also provides attendees with an opportunity to collaborate with and learn from their industry peers. We encourage anyone with a compelling story to submit an abstract."

Providing opportunities to network with several hundred colleagues in the industry, Itron Utility Week 2018 will take place Sept. 28 to Oct. 5 in Scottsdale, Arizona at the Fairmont Princess. The deadline to submit abstracts is Monday, April 30 at 5 p.m. PT. Abstracts selected for the event will receive one complimentary registration to IUW 2018.
